Switchboard Operating; Dorm Numbers Listed

The new University switchboard has been in partial operation for one week, and work is being continued on administrative and faculty office phones, according to Kenneth Prast, University telephone supervisor.

Instructions for using the new system have been mimeographed and sent to all residence halls. These are the instructions to be followed while placing a call: When calling from a new phone, dial the number of the extension; and when calling from a city phone, dial the University number 38411 and ask for the desired extension.

To call a new number from one of the residence halls, dial the extension number desired. City numbers (including administrative phones) may be reached by dialing "8", waiting for the dial tone, and then dialing the desired city number.

From dormitories, long distance calls are to be made from pay stations, and from fraternities and sororities, they are to be made by dialing "0", and placing the call with the University operator.

Information, emergency, and the University police may be reached by dialing "0".

Mr. Prast said that service would be speeded up if students would call by numbers, instead of having to call the University operator. Since the numbers on campus are rung manually, sometimes the operators dial a number, and then ring that number again later. This interval between rings does not mean that there is no call, but the phone should be answered after the first ring, explained Mr. Prast.

The new numbers are as follows:

The chairman of the board is Linda Wipior. Other members of the committee are: Herb Hipp, Sally Steidtmann, Ken Cattarin, Nancy Shenk, and Dr. Frank Miles.

The functions of the Student Spirit and Traditions Board are to "encourage interest in and support of intercollegiate athletic teams; shall foster and extend the campus traditions of the University; and shall plan and direct such events as may be appropriate in the achieving of these functions. Members of the committee are Nancy Looman, chairman; Anita Luyk, George Howick, Joan McKinney, Dr. Melvin Hyman, and the Presidents of the four classes and the head cheer leader.

WBGU, the University radio station, is once again in complete operation. Sign on at 3:58 p.m. and sign off at 9 p.m. During its five-hour broadcast day, live as well as taped programs are presented.

Afternoon programs include instrumental and vocal music, perennials, "Spotlight on a Star," and other musical shows. During the evening many of the programs broadcasted are tapes, and consist of discussions on timely topics, French play reviews, and dramas. There are also several news casts and sports programs daily.

A 16 per cent increase in the number of full-time students enrolled at the University for 1956-57 as compared with the enrollment last year was revealed in figures released this week by Glenn I. Van Wormer, registrar and director of admissions. Fall enrollment this year is 4,238 full-time students as compared with 3,646 last year.

Total enrollment, including 234 part-time students and 576 students in extension classes is 5,048, an increase of 14.5 per cent above last year's total of 4,410.

The largest increase in on-campus enrollment is in new freshmen and transfer students, totaling 1,807 as compared with 1,434 last year, an increase of 25 per cent. Among the colleges, the enrollment in Liberal Arts rose most heavily, being 21 per cent above a year ago. Substantial increases were recorded in all colleges, however, and in all departments and divisions of the University, Mr. Van Wormer stated.

Continuing the trend of recent years, the number of resident men students is 18 per cent above a year ago, and the number of resident women students is 11 per cent above last year. Resident men and women students number 2,482 and 2,000, respectively, a 55-45 percentage distribution.

Thirty-five students are registered at the University from outside the continental United States, coming from 15 territories and foreign countries around the globe.

"Although the continued heavy increase in enrollment naturally produces many problems of adjustment, we had made careful advance preparations," said Pres. Ralph W. McDonald. "We are especially gratified by the increasing high calibre of our entering students and by the increased interest in liberal arts education, which we consider the two greatest needs of our time."

Other schools in Ohio have also reported estimated increased enrollments for this year. They are Ohio University, 6,800; Toledo University, 6,700; Ohio State University, 22,000; Kent State University, 6,800.

Pass The Oats; Out To Lunch

The horse which was roaming the Bowling Green campus Tuesday about 12:30 p.m. belonged to Mrs. Al Grosjean, Ninth St. She was playing with her horse, "Babe," in her backyard while home for lunch from the Midwest Stamping Co. where she works.

In want of adventure, "Babe" left her owner and soon was prancing down Wooster St. headed straight for the University. After stopping and waiting for the traffic signal at Main St., "Babe" crossed the intersection and continued her journey to the University campus, where she was seen running by many astonished students.

Although the police were summoned over radio station WBGU, their help was not needed, as the horse was brought to a halt by a University coed, who evidently had a way with horses.

Mrs. Grosjean and her husband, who had pursued the horse in their car, soon reached the scene and took over from there. Mr. Grosjean held the horse while his wife went back home for the riding gear, and by 1:20 p.m. the five-year-old buckskin mare was safe and sound (if not happy) at home again.

Physics Profs At Kent

The University physics department will be well represented at the meeting of the Ohio Section of the American Physical Society at Kent, Oct. 12-13.

Dr. Donald W. Bowman, professor of physics, Dr. Frederick H. Giles, instructor in physics, and Dr. William E. Singer, professor of physics and department chairman, will attend the two-day meeting. Dr. Bowman will present a paper entitled, "The Effect of the Use of Polaroid Filters on Kodachrome Transparencies."

Branch Schools Enrollment Is 113

A total of 113 students are enrolled in the University's Sandusky and Mansfield branches this fall. At the Sandusky branch, directed by Karl E. Whinnery, 63 persons attend classes. Among the 50 undergraduates attending the Mansfield branch are students from Ohio, West Virginia, and Kentucky. The Mansfield branch is headed by W. L. Miller.

While most of the instructors at the two branches come from the Sandusky or Mansfield areas, Prof. Gerald G. Acker and Mrs. Dorothy Abell drive from the University to the Sandusky branch twice a week to teach classes there this year. No faculty members commute to the Mansfield branch.

Although established primarily for the two-year cadet teaching certificate program, the subjects taught during the first year at the branches furnish liberal arts credit for anyone planning a four-year college program.

History Convention Held

Members of the University history department will travel to Heidelberg College, Oct. 12-13, for the fall meeting of the Ohio Academy of History.

The purpose of the session is to discuss problems of teaching and writing history and to plan for the Academy of History spring meeting at which time papers on historical subjects will be presented.

Dr. Grover C. Platt, chairman of the history department, is president of the Ohio Academy of History.

Not only the greater portion of the male population, but also much of the female population was engrossed in the seventh game of the World Series as the Yankees went on to win the pennant.

Editorially Speaking

This Is Hazing?

Frosh hazing is just about dead. A freshman wearing his beanie is a rare sight. In fact, beanies haven't been seen on campus since the first couple days of classes.

How many upperclassmen are making the freshmen follow the hazing rules set up by the Student Spirit and Traditions Board? Very few. Probably just the members of this board.

It seems a waste of time for this group to go to the trouble to set up rules and regulations which are ignored. Furthermore, other than for possibly keeping the beanies as a memory of BG, it's a waste of money for the freshmen to even buy them.

Also, it's a let-down to the freshmen who come to college fully expecting to go through weeks of concentrated hazing. It doesn't look good for the student body to prepare them for something like this, and then when freshman week comes, nothing.

So why not dispense with this so-called hazing and perhaps put efforts on a day set aside for class competition in relay races, climaxed by a tug-of-war to determine the "Strongest" class.

On Our Toes

Today or tomorrow, many loyal fans will be following the Falcons to Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea in hopes of seeing the team take its fifth straight win of the season.

Last week, the migrants to Drake were naturally small in number but this week more students will have the opportunity of seeing the game and supporting the Falcons since Berea is only approximately 100 miles from Bowling Green.

The recent incident with students from another campus should serve to warn us of the necessity of conducting ourselves as intelligent and mature people even though we will be away from our campus.

Whenever we are the guests of another college, we represent not only ourselves but the entire University. Thus, it is essential for the well-being and good name of the University to be "on our toes" and not to act in a manner which would be uncomplimentary to our Alma Mater or the 4,238 students who study here.

We hope that the representatives of Bowling Green will conduct themselves in such a manner that they will be welcomed guests on any college campus.

Psych Drama Opens Family Play Series In Toledo Oct. 8

A special performance before an audience of 2,700 members of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, Incorporated marked the beginning of the Family Play series for the 1956-57 year. The play, "New Fountains," was given at Civic Auditorium in Toledo on Monday night, Oct. 8.

The cast included Margo Anderson, Mary Graybill, Ron Mainous and Virginia Johnson. Stage manager was Ben Mehling.

Family Plays, a special repertory company made possible through a grant of funds from the Ohio Division of Mental Hygiene, will tour northwestern Ohio within a radius of 40 miles from Bowling Green. The first regularly scheduled performance will be held on Nov. 4, in Wauseon.

Larry Griswald, graduate student who earned his B.A. at Toledo University, is directing the plays and has cast two others in addition to "New Fountains." Mr. Griswald has also picked alternating casts for each of these plays to prevent one cast's having to spend too much time on the road.

"And You Never Know," about a series of crises arising from a 12-year-old's jealousy of her sister, has for cast A, Virginia Johnson, Elton Vogel and Margo Anderson, with Ben Mehling as stage manager. Cast B includes, Mary Jane Kozimor, Michael Katz and Mary Graybill with Ron Mainous as stage manager.

Virginia Johnson, Margo Anderson, Tom Wolbert, Shirley Klotz and Lois Derough compose cast A for "Tomorrow is a Day," a story of how a mother gains new understanding of her 15-year-old daughter. Ben Mehling is also stage manager for this play. Making up cast B are Peg Faze, Mary Graybill, Dave Huffman, Marilyn Patton, Susie Moran and Tom Edie as stage manager.

Mr. Griswald has announced that there will be additional tryouts for the Family Plays during the second week in Nov.

Free Days On Social Program? Students Sight Snafu Seat Signs

By JOAN HONKALA

Everyone has been discussing the Social Program in terms of activities and events planned, but I'd like to see the Committee plan for one completely free week end every six or seven weeks. This would give students a chance to catch up on homework, sleep, or to go home. Around the busy weeks of the school year, a free week end would be a most welcome relief.

In talking about all the build-ings which have been named for members of the a d m i n i s t r a t i o n a n d faculty, one issue editor came up with this gem. "Why not name the Chemistry Bldg. after Dr. Hall? Then it could be called Hall Hall."

HONKALA

Looking ahead: Only 73 more days 'til Christmas and only 240 more 'til graduation.

Two students were walking down the business section of a small town last summer. They came to a hardware store which had a sign in the window, saying "Seat Covers." Then there was a big arrow which pointed north. In the store window directly north of this hardware store was a sign which said, "Girdles."

Experience is the only thing that's left after everything else is gone.

The tables were turned last Saturday at the Bowling Green-Drake football game. At the sound of the gun signaling the end of the game and the fourth straight victory for the Falcons, the team cheered the band for their enthusiastic spirit during the game.

People who live in glass houses might as well answer the door-bell.

We received a letter from a fellow in Rodger's Quad this week who suggested that instead of Court Members Visit Toledo Traffic Dept.

Six members of the Student Court used the University Station wagon for a trip to Toledo Thursday, Oct. 11, to visit the traffic court of the Toledo Municipal Court. The group was accompanied by Dr. Russell Decker, adviser to the group.

The students attending were Fred Ashley, Anne DuPuy, Ronald Myers, Edward Ward, Gail Granfield, and Martha Glosser.

Companies To Hold Interviews This Year

This week marks the beginning of company-student interviews which is a counseling service established exclusively for graduating seniors. Representatives of more than 150 companies will be on campus this semester to interview seniors in a wide range of specialized fields.

Interviews get underway Friday, Oct. 12 when M. N. Barbour, a representative of the Toledo Edison Co., Toledo, will be on hand from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to talk to accountants only. A series of 30-minute interviews will be arranged.

"Any accounting majors interested in talking to Mr. Barbour are requested to stop into the placement office, 100 Administration Bldg., during the week and sign up for the interview," announced James Galloway, placement officer.

A list of future interviews will be posted on the bulletin board outside the Admissions Office in the Well. The B-G News will also carry a listing of the scheduled interviews.

KENNEDY TO BE CONDUCTOR

Sunday, Oct. 14, Dr. James Paul Kennedy, director of Choral Activities, will be guest conductor at the Lutheran Choir Festival which will be held in Galion. There will be a mass choir of several hundred with choirs being represented from various choirs throughout the central part of the state.

showing the same movie at 7 and 9 p.m. on one night, the schedule be set up showing the two movies on one night, reversing the time for each Friday and Saturday night. Thus, students could see both movies on one evening or two different movies on two evenings. Sounds complicated, but worth looking into...

'Jackets Prepare To Unleash Aerial Game Tomorrow Night

By JOHN MELOY

Doyt Perry's rampaging Falcon eleven will pit their undefeated record of four straight wins against a mediocre Baldwin-Wallace squad at Berea, Ohio tomorrow night. The Yellowjackets have compiled a 2-1 record to date.

This contest will be Baldwin-Wallace's first home game of the young season. The Yellowjackets have blanked Geneva College 21-0, then lost 26-0 at Eastern Michigan, and slipped past Oberlin last week 14-13.

However, the Yellowjackets are not to be taken lightly, as they pushed the issue with a 14-14 tie at the end of three periods with the Falcons last year. BG then came back with three touchdowns in the fourth quarter to sew up the game 34-14.

The Yellowjackets will be sparked by quarterback Chuck Brady and left halfback Jim Currens, who is their leading ground gainer. The outstanding linemen on the squad are 200-pound end Dick Lowry and guard Don Kelly, who played football at Quantico, Va. with Jim Ruehl, Bowling Green freshman football coach.

Another promising lineman on the team is 240-pound tackle B. F. Havens, a former BG player. Havens played with BG his sophomore year in 1954 before transferring to BW.

Falcons Head MAC Statistics

Bowling Green's high-flying Falcons continue to dominate the Mid-American Conference after their fourth straight victory at Drake.

Vic DeOrio, BG's fleet-footed halfback, increased his individual leadership in rushing, with another good day at Drake. DeOrio now has 371 yards in 61 carries for a six yard average. He also leads the league in scoring with 30 points on six touchdowns. In this department he is closely followed by teammate Jack Giroux who has 24 points.

In both offense and defense the Falcons lead Miami and the rest of the league. BG has averaged 381 yards per game while giving up only 141 each game and three touchdowns.

Junior quarterback Don Nehlen leads BG's passing attack with seven completions in 16 tries for 81 yards. His highest receiver is Ray Reese, while Ed Janeway stands out defensively at the other end.

Bob Ramlow, subbing for the injured Bill Spencer at Drake proved to be very efficient and has averaged eight yards in 11 carries. Spencer has averaged 10.9 and Floyd Lennox 15.4 for the high individual averages.

Tomorrow the Falcons travel to Baldwin-Wallace in search of their fifth straight win.

BG Soars To Top Of INS Grid Poll

Bowling Green soared to the front in this week's International News Service of Ohio colleges. For the first time since the 1953 season, Miami's Redskins were ousted from the top perch in the weekly poll.

Ohio State is not included in the voting as they play a predominantly non-Ohio schedule.

The rout of Drake sprung BG over Miami into first place. Miami has suffered a one-point defeat from nationally ranked George Washington. They trailed the Falcons in the voting.

Xavier was third and fourth went to the Dayton Flyers. The only other Mid-American Conference team to receive a ranking was sixth-place Kent State.

Hunch Player

the Prez Sez:

By LES WAGNER

Hunch players run in streaks. Just ask any tout on the street corner or the barbershop book-maker.

Casey Stengel is probably the greatest hunch player of all times.

The seventh game of the World Series proves the point. Elston Howard, a resident of the bench for the previous six matches, suddenly was hurled into action. Howard cracked a home run in his combined debut and finale. Stengel utilized Howard because he remembered that the outfielder had touched Don Newcombe for a homer in the 1955 series. The same Newcombe was pitching.

Doyt Perry does not gamble. He knows he is blessed with a powerhouse and he waits for them to open up. The two big wins the Falcons have locked up in their vault are Kent State and Drake. Both were steamrollered in second half action. Both squads were gambling against the vaunted BG line. But you have to back up hunches and the Perry football machine could not be denied.

POWDER BOWL?

On the feminine side of the grid game, I would like to bellow a cry for the return of the Powder Bowl. This legal form of mayhem between the Delta Gammas and Alpha Xi Deltas was one of the more popular events on campus.

I am under the impression that a broken arm inflicted in the 1953 contest caused the discontinuement of the Powder Bowl. True, the petite misses who engage in such activities are more prone to injury, but with modified rules put into action I think the game would be as safe as a bike race or a tug-of-war, etc.

I herewith offer my services as a coach to the team with the best offer.

BETWEEN HALVES

From all indications, the Falcons will soon be ranked in the national polls.

Carol Jo Byrns should be barred if the Powder Bowl comes off.

This season will play a vital role in Doyt Perry's rapid trip up the football ladder.

Fraternity Football Swings Into Action

Delta Tau Delta has an opportunity to forge into first place in Fraternity League I tomorrow. The Deltas can break out of a tie with Phi Delta Theta if they can top Phi Kappa Psi.

Sigma Chi, Kappa Sigma, Delta Upsilon, and Sigma Nu are in a four-way deadlock for top honors in Fraternity League II. This will be narrowed down to two tomorrow as Sigma Chi plays Kappa Sigma and Delta Upsilon tackles Sigma Nu.

Carmen Angelosante, Delta Tau Delta, is leading the first loop in scoring with 25 points.

In independent action, the teams are named after their respective captains. In League I, Dienstberger's and Steinman's posted wins. In League II, Cliff Reimer scored three touchdowns as Lanza's romped over Abramson's. Other scores were Coffmans 7—Millers 6; and Muellers 7—Millers 6.

and Scholarship Money for Your College in*

Reader's Digest $41,000 CONTEST

Open to All College Students (Faculty, too!)

Nothing to buy...nothing to write

...and you may find you know more about people than you think!

How well do you know human nature? Can you tell what subjects interest people most? Here is a chance to test your judgment—show how good an editor you are—and you may win $5,000 for yourself, plus $5,000 in scholarship funds for your college.

It's fun to try. Maybe you can top other students in colleges across the country... and you can match wits with the editors of Reader's Digest.

Why do far more college graduates read Reader's Digest than any other magazine? What is it that makes the Digest the most widely read magazine in the world—with 11 million copies bought each month in the United States, plus 9 million abroad? Why is it read each month by at least 60 million people, in 12 languages—Arabic, Danish, English, Finnish, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Norwegian, Portuguese, Spanish and Swedish?

Can you spot in a typical issue of Reader's Digest the universal human values that link scholars, statesmen, scientists, writers, businessmen, housewives? Can you pick out the articles that will be most popular with the average Digest reader?

You may find...you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles—in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best. This will be compared with a nationwide survey conducted among a cross section of Digest subscribers.

Follow the directions given below. Fill in the entry blank, paste it on a post card, and get it into the mail before the deadline. Additional blanks are obtainable at your college bookstore.

All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, October 25, 1956. Don't delay. In case of ties, the entry with the earliest postmark will win.

Just pick in order the six articles you think most readers of October
Reader's Digest will like the best.
